1 Introduction

The Region of Waterloo procured a Road Construction and Incident Management System in 2017. The system consists of two parts:

- + Road Permit Application
- + Road Incident Management System

The Road Permit Application allows the public to apply for road-related permits and municipal consent. The following permits are available:

- + Filming Event
- + Municipal Consent
- + Oversize Load
- + Special Event
- + Work Permit
- + Keolis Permit

The application also allows the public to apply for various informational requests that may be used in their projects. These include:

- + Current Signal Timing Requests
- + Historical Signal Timing (Legal Requests)
- + Synchro Network Requests
- + Noise Assessment Requests

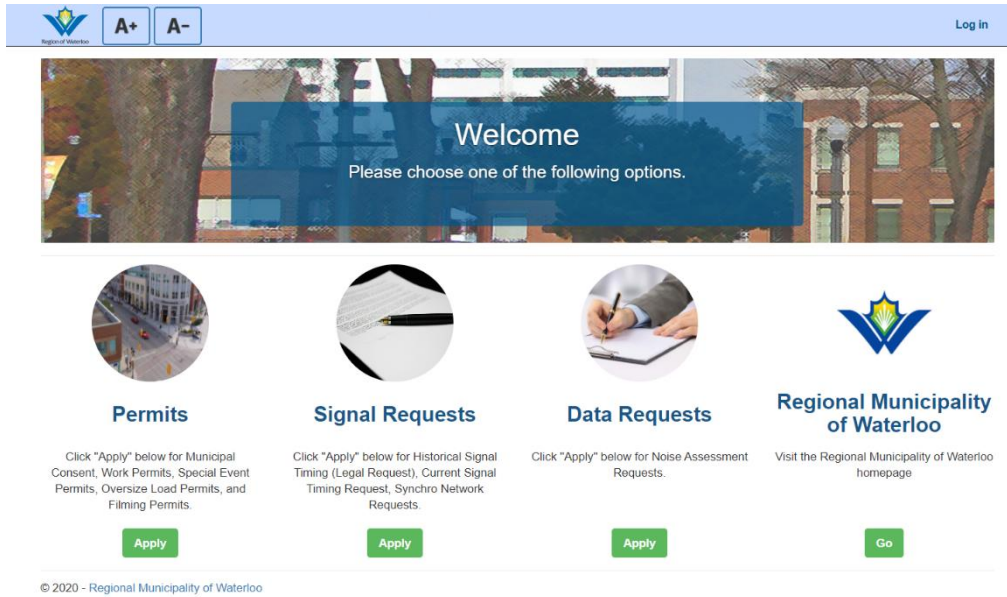

The permit application is expected to improve customer service and efficiency of the permitting process. It also helps save time and paper by adopting an online and paperless procedure.

The following user manual is intended for the Public User. Staff and Administrators are to refer to their respective user manuals for the most comprehensive information.

Please read carefully:

A work permit is required for anyone wanting to occupy a Regional road, shoulder, sidewalk or right-of-way, even if the work is not expected to damage the road. The permit must be obtained in advance of the work being done. See the schedule below for more information.

A permit is required for all work including excavation, cut or trench; to install, construct, place, move, remove, relocate, adjust, alter, clean, maintain, test, repair, replace, improve or restore infrastructure in, over, under, across or along a Regional road, or on any road that extends from a Regional road on to private property, or on an unopened Regional road.

If a Work Permit is required for the purpose of constructing or modifying an access in which an Access Permit was required and approved, a copy of the approved Access Permit must accompany the submission of the Work Permit.

The applicant must have the approval to sign on behalf of the Owner/Proponent and Contractor.

You will be brought to the Edit Keolis Permit Application page where instructions for Keolis are provided to you. The Keolis Permit is separated into two different parts – the Permit to Work Request Form and the Permit to Work - Job Assessment for Working Safe. Read both sections carefully to ensure that your Request is returned without delays.

Edit Keolis Permit Application

Permit to Work Request Form

Instructions:This form is to be completed by any personnel seeking to complete work on or near the ION Light Rail Transit Network. Please read the following information carefully to ensure that your Request is returned without delays.

Roles:
Permit Applicant	Person completing the Permit to Work Form
Permit Recipient	Person managing the work described in the Permit to Work Form
Permit User	Person(s) participating in the work described in the Permit to Work Form
Central Control Facility (CCF)	Keolis Personnel responsible for the actioning and issuing of Permit to Work submissions in accordance with ION operational requirements
Process:
Step 1: Complete the PTW Form	Recommendations: If a PTW is denied, Keolis will provide recommended amendments to the PTW Form. This is to minimize operational impact to the ION Network.
Step 2: Complete a JAWS Form
Step 3: Submit documents to IONLRPermits@keolis.ca
Step 4: Forms Returned to Applicant (Approved or Denied)
Frequently Asked Questions:
How is authorization obtained?
Permission for planned works can be obtained by completing a Permit to Work Request and sending it to the Keolis with the appropriate supporting documentation. Applications must be submitted at least 10 business days prior to the planned work date. PTW Request Forms must be submitted to IONLRPermits@keolis.ca .
When the completed PTW Request is submitted, it will be reviewed by Keolis to identify:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Whether the planned works can be safely undertaken with LRVs still running; ■ If a local restriction on LRV running is required; ■ If the safety of either the ION LRT or the applicant's staff or contractor(s) may be at risk; and ■ Whether the OCS requires to be isolated and grounded.
After the review, Keolis may then:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Seek further information in relation to the application; ■ Give permission for the works by issuing a Permit to Work; or ■ Refuse to allow the works.
Are there any work restrictions?
Keolis will review each PTW Request Form individually and may impose conditions/restrictions on an approved Permit To Work issued which may include but not limited to:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Time of day in which the planned work may take place; ■ Type of equipment to be used on site; ■ Location of the planned work and proximity to the tracks; ■ Duration of planned work; ■ Scope of work authorized; or ■ Safety measures imposed on site.
Is any training from Keolis required?
Prior to submitting a PTW Request, all workers must attend the ION LRT Safety Awareness Training provided by Keolis. This course is developed to provide all workers with the level of competence required to work on or near the ION LRT Network. Please note that this course does not provide instructions to workers on how to perform the planned work detailed in the PTW Form. This course will take approximately 2 hours and can be arranged by email at IONLRPermits@keolis.ca .
Other Considerations
All personnel working on or near to the ION LRT must wear the minimum PPE as approved by Keolis and as appropriate to the nature of the planned work. This can be identified by the documented Job Assessment for Working Safely Form completed by the relevant party as part of this PTW process. All workers must wear high visibility vests/jackets in order to identify themselves on the ION LRT Network and carry their certificate of participation issued upon completing the ION LRT Safety Awareness Training .
Complete Parts A-B thoroughly and submit to Waterloo Permit System 10 days prior to the planned work date.

Permit to Work Job Assessment for Working Safe

Are there any work restrictions?
Keolis will review each PTW Request Form individually and may impose conditions/restrictions on an approved Permit To Work issued which may include but not limited to:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Time of day in which the planned work may take place; ▪ Type of equipment to be used on site; ▪ Location of the planned work and proximity to the tracks; ▪ Duration of planned work; ▪ Scope of work authorized; or ▪ Safety measures imposed on site.
Is any training from Keolis required?
Prior to submitting a PTW Request, all workers must attend the ION LRT Safety Awareness Training provided by Keolis. This course is developed to provide all workers with the level of competence required to work on or near the ION LRT Network. Please note that this course does not provide instructions to workers on how to perform the planned work detailed in the PTW Form. This course will take approximately 2 hours and can be arranged by email at IONLRTPermits@keolis.ca .
Other Considerations
All personnel working on or near to the ION LRT must wear the minimum PPE as approved by Keolis and as appropriate to the nature of the planned work. This can be identified by the documented Job Assessment for Working Safely Form completed by the relevant party as part of this PTW process. All workers must wear high visibility vests/jackets in order to identify themselves on the ION LRT Network and carry their certificate of participation issued upon completing the ION LRT Safety Awareness Training .

At the bottom of the page is the “Related Permits” tab where you may go back to view your original application.

The View Application page will also indicate the Status of your Keolis permit.
